DESCRIPCIÓN	The project has 3 main goals: 1) supporting the host organizations in daily work with children and youngsters and also with the students with special needs. 2) supporting the mobility of young people and developing the multicultural dialog. 3) improving the sense of initiative. The volunteers' work in the hosting organisations for children and youngsters will support the idea of the schools as well as contribute to development and improvement the key competences and new skills for themselves, which will help them in the labour market. In SOSW Centre for Autism there will be 2 volunteers, who are going to work with children and youth suffer from autism and related disorders. The centre leads the kindergarten, primary school, junior school and the school providing preparation for work and boarding school. The volunteers will support the pedagogues, therapists in the daily collaboration with youth. In the Special School nr 11 will be working 2 volunteers with children and youth with multiple disabilities. The complex of the school consists of primary school, junior school and the school providing preparation for work. The volunteers will support the students and the teachers during daily work in the school and after school. The role of volunteers in the Pre-school and school complex nr 11 the task and role will be support students and teachers of Primary School in their activities, assistance in events and projects in schools, support playroom and school library. The support the mobility of young people and the multicultural dialog will be second goal of the project. The volunteers will promote the projects dedicated to youth in the framework of the EU funds (e.g. Erasmus+) and they will also focus on advertising the European voluntary service as the unique opportunity for getting to know other cultures and gaining the precious experience that will help in their further career. During the project, the volunteers will learn how to use the various media to promote the activities, they will organise the International Volunteer Day, will take part in the Mobility fairs or other initiatives that promote the international projects of youth. The last aim of the project "Act to activate" is improving the sense of initiative. Our volunteers will organise on their own mentioned events which are promoting mobilities. They will also co-work with 3 various sectors (business, NGO and governmental institutions). All participants will have a chance to check themselves in various roles such as: leader and team member. By assisting in the workplaces and by preparing own initiatives, the volunteers will acquire competences such as: work in multicultural team, leading the project (starting from the idea to carrying this out), managing the time, managing own budget and project's budget or using the media. The participants of the project "Act to activate" this means volunteers, partner organisations and chargers in the workplaces will gain new intercultural experiences. They will have a chance to lead the multicultural dialog, strengthen the links, building the environment based on the tolerance, acceptance that do not exclude but include. INFOPACK DEL PROYECTO
